

Mark // You're The Biggest Star Of My Life

If you leave someone
Then you hurt someone
If you hate someone
Then you protect someone

If you're lost somewhere
In imbroglio's storm
With no strength to survive
Hear the whisper of a disorderly mind

Breathe the air of your memories
The past is near
It's like a shaman dance crossing million miles and years
In the opium land

It's like water to a desert
And like a mother to a child
It's like a night after day
It's like everyday prayer
You are the biggest star of my life

And every time and everywhere I feel black sorrow
I know It's gonna be just allright
And if you lose someone
Then you release someone inside...

It's like water to a desert
And like a mother to a child
It's like a night after day
It's like everyday prayer
You are the biggest star of my life

If you leave someone
Then you hurt someone
If you hate someone
Then you protect someone
